Dedication

To Miss Ruth Stroud, advisor of the class of 1946, we dedicate this Clarion. We appreciate the wise counsel and most helpful guidance which she gave to our class throughout our four years at University High.

In Recognition

To Miss Lucile Klauser, the members of the Clarion staff wish to extend their sincere appreciation and thanks for her helpfulness, her cooperation, and her untiring efforts as their sponsor throughout this year.

Joan swell with book of Juck

Since the regular school term at U. High includes the seasons—fall, winter, and spring—the Clarion staff of 1946 has divided this yearbook into three main sections. An effort has been made to place the pictures and writeups in the section representing the season in which each organization was the most active.

The cartoons on the division pages are of animals which we often link with the season.

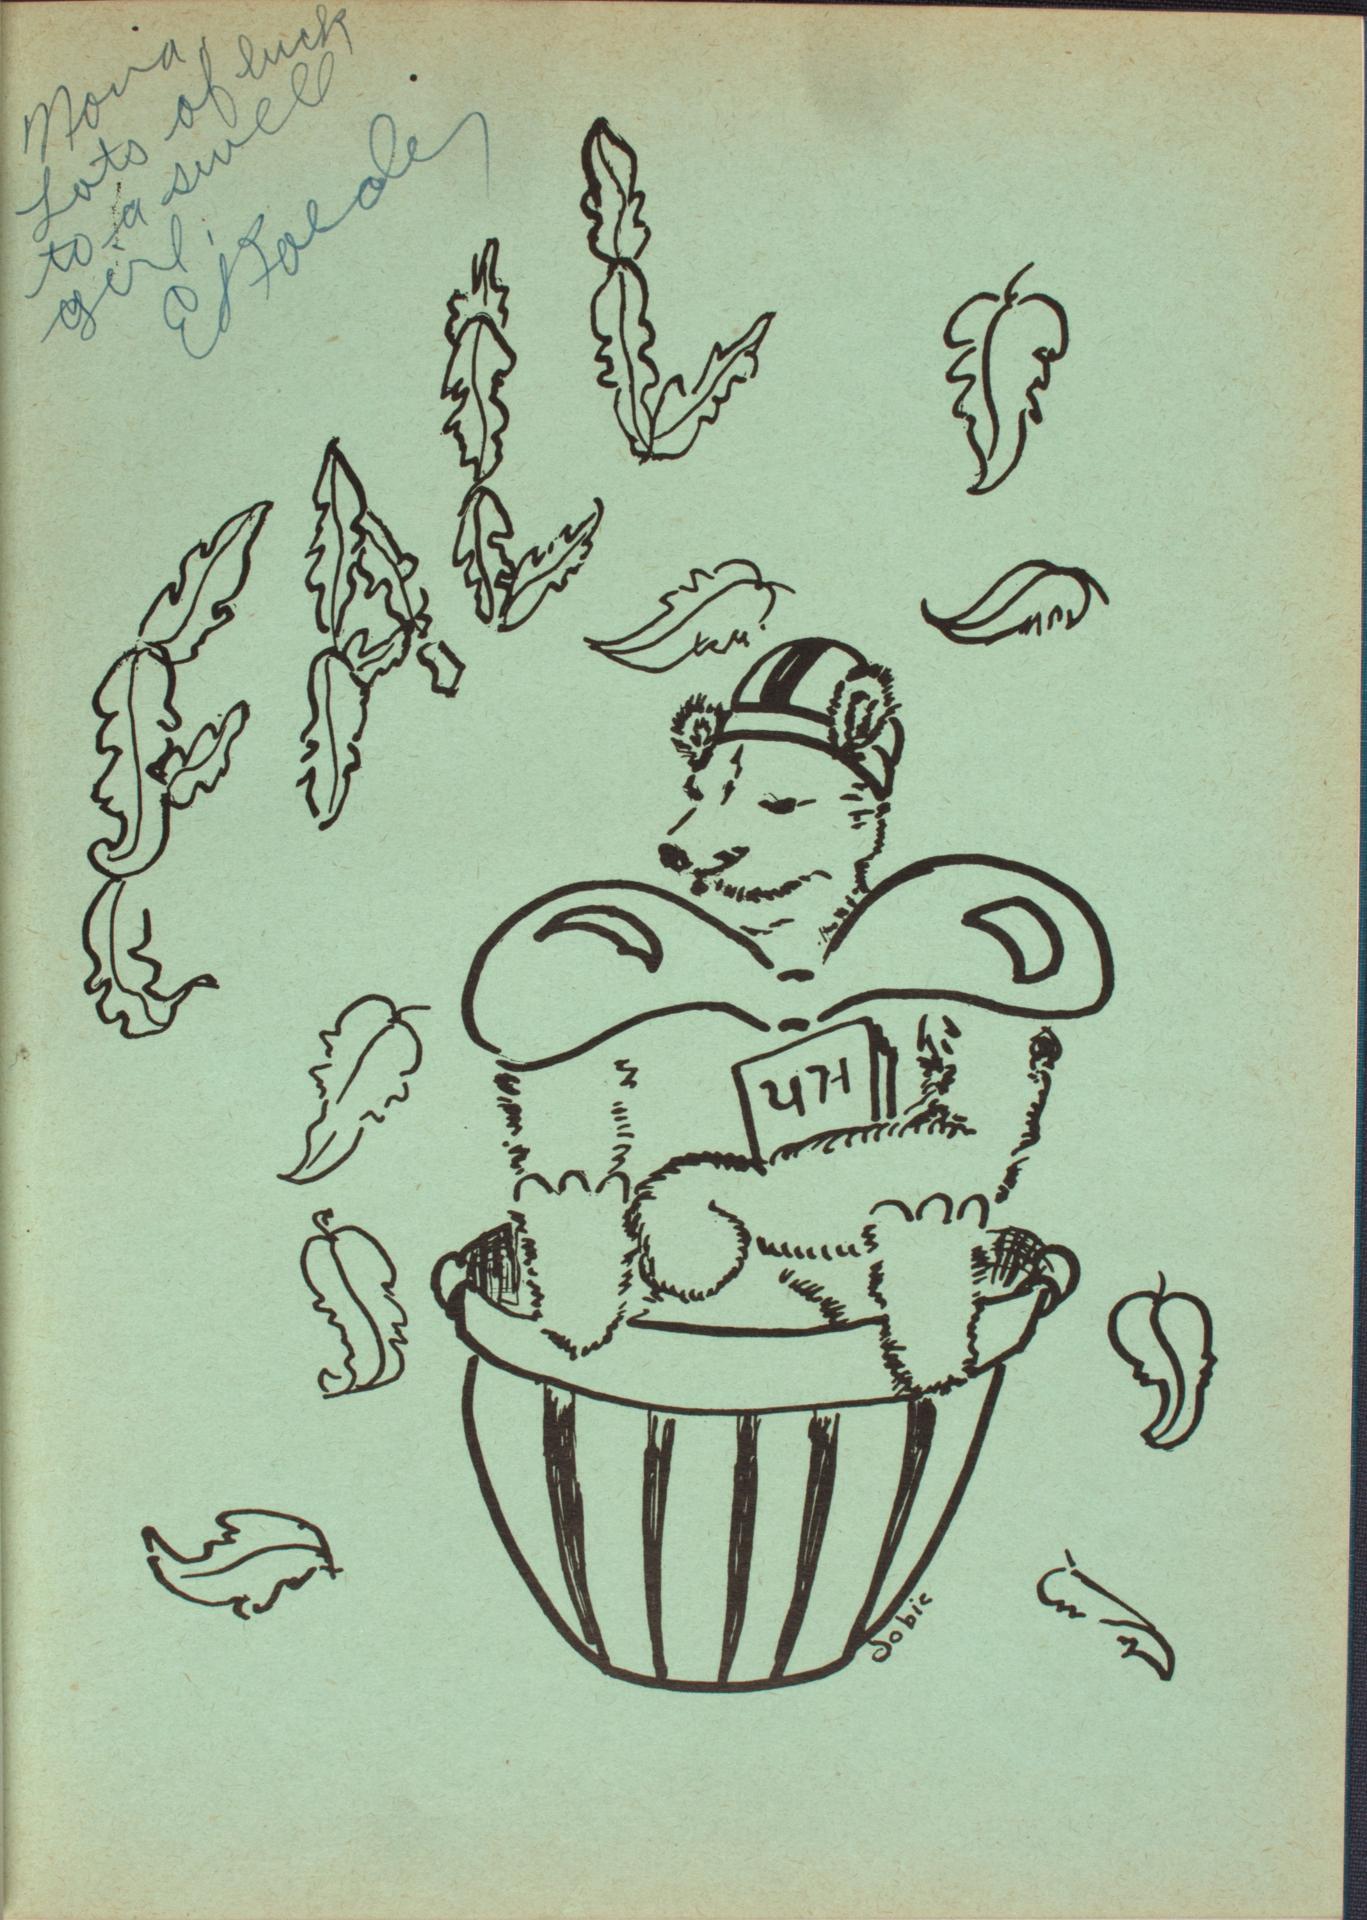

Read these pages and relive the school year 1945-46 at University High School.

DR. V. M. HOUSTON

Principal, University High School

Dr. Victor M. Houston

Dr. Victor M. Houston came to University High in the middle of last year. He remarked that at that time he was interested in U. High, but as time goes on he enjoys his work even more than he expected to.

Dr. Houston does varied and constant work for the betterment of U. High. He serves as director, counselor, disciplinarian, and friend to all the students. As one sees him hurrying on some errand, he notices that Dr. Houston is never in too much of a hurry to say "hello" or answer a question. The reason for this could be explained by Dr. Houston's feelings toward U. High. He feels, as do many others, that anyone who is associated with U. High is lucky.

MRS. WARREN Dean of Girls

Mrs. Mae C. Warren

"May I have an excuse slip, please?"

Mary won't be in school today because she has a cold."

This is a sample of the things which Mrs. Warren, the first dean of girls at U. High, hears day in and day out. This might become tiresome to some people, but not to Mrs. Warren, who thoroughly enjoys working with people. Mrs. Warren's kind and understanding ways are a great help to the girls of U. High.

U. High's new director of girls' activities was born and reared in Iowa, and she received both her bachelor's degree and her master's degree from Iowa State College. In her first year of teaching, Mrs. Warren taught at a consolidated high school; however the next year she became head of the home economics department at Graceland College, and later Dean of Women in 1933. She was director of Walker, a dormitory for one-hundred girls. In 1936 she came to the ISNU campus where she served as the director of Fell Hall and taught home economics in the university. Now U. High gladly welcomes her as its first dean of girls.

MISS GLORIA PIAZZI, DR. V. M. HOUSTON, MISS NORMA JEAN DAVIS

Office Staff

The busiest room in U. High is probably T-107. That's where we go to see about such things as next semester's schedule, a new lock to replace the broken one, former U. High students, the master key, and countless other things. This "room with all the answers" is the high school office. The records of all the students are kept there, and all official business is taken care of in that room.

Naturally such an important place must have a very efficient staff. We are all familiar with the cheerful faces of Dr. V. M. Houston, Mrs. Mildred Wunderlich, Miss Norma Jean Davis, and Miss Gloria Piazzi, who composed the office staff this year. It was very handy to run into the office to ask them our questions and consult them about our problems.

Mrs. Wunderlich left us at the end of the first semester to be with her husband who had returned from overseas. Her position was filled by Miss Gloria Piazzi, who came to us from the Business Office of I.S.N.U.

Senior Class Events

On September 7 the seniors came to register for the last time at U. High. On the eleventh of the same month they began their classwork, which included good old U.S. History, to which they had all been looking forward with "eager eyes."

All the seniors could be seen sitting on the benches watching those football games, which were climaxed by the Homecoming game and dance on November 2. November 16 they attended the Junior Class Play and recalled the year before when they had made their debuts on the stage. Oh, to be a junior again!

The seniors certainly enjoyed the basketball games and felt a great loss when they thought of not being in dear old U. High's cheering section next year. All of those school parties were wonderful, and the seniors hope that next year they will be able to "sneak in on" a few. Be kind; let them in.

April 5 brought forth the Senior Class Play "Two Gentlemen and Verona," and then they knew they would never appear on Capen stage in a high school play again.

Then May 10 brought the big event—the Junior-Senior Prom on which those juniors had worked all year. Last year the seniors dreamed about not having to work all year on the Prom but of sitting back and enjoying themselves. This year when they were the guests, they wished to be juniors again in order to have one more year and one more prom. On May 24 classwork was over for the seniors and they could burn their books, but somehow all the books, even that U.S. History book, became dear to them. Baccalaureate was held on May 26. May 29 every senior "let down his hair" and gave the under-classmen a look into their past and future lives. I wonder, are those class wills appreciated?

On May 31 seniors received their report cards for the last time, and for once they were glad to take them home. On the night of May 31 the seniors walked across the stage in those same caps and gowns that so many others had worn before and received their diplomas; but you could detect many a tear in their eyes, for now they realized what U. High meant to them.

Junior Class

Members of the Junior Class proved this year that they had not run out of the ambition that they had shown in the past. The class's eighty individuals held a meeting the third day of school and immediately elected officers, student council representatives, and standing committees.

Under the pleasant guiding hand of its sponsor, Miss Ruth Huggins, the class planned its activities for the year. Members of the class sold varied types of refreshments—popcorn, ice cream, pop, candy bars, and hot dogs—at the games and parties. In this and many other ingenious ways the class made money for the Junior-Senior Prom, which was enjoyed immensely by everyone.

The class had a good representation in the many clubs and societies of U. High. The members showed enthusiasm for assemblies, sports, and all other school activities.

"Tish," their class play, presented November 16th, proved to be quite successful both in making money for the class and in supplying entertainment for the public. The class is indeed grateful for the kindness and understanding shown by its sponsor, Miss Ruth Huggins, who came back to it after a year's leave of absence.

Sophomore Class

The class of '48 had a year simply packed with fun, interesting activities and work. It sponsored a really fine all-school party and ushered at the junior class play, baccalaureate, and commencement. The sophomores took an active part in clubs, music groups, and sports.

Speaking of sports, didn't Dick Weidig, Milton Kadlec, and Bill Dorn play some wonderful games this year? No game is complete without cheers. Martha Schaab, Frank Abbott, and Robert Lee, sophomore cheerleaders, really made everyone shout. Remember that sore throat?

The sophomore class officers were Nancy Fearheiley, president; Jim Laible, vice-president; Ruth Beeler, secretary; and Frances Coan, treasurer. Barbara Browne, Ralph Loar, and Patty Reed were elected as the student council representatives. Jim Laible was on the assembly committee.

The class of '48 is very grateful to Miss Webb who is its helpful and willing sponsor.

Freshman Class

The freshman class of 1945-46 consisted of eighty-six pupils. The president this year was Richard Maxey; vice-president. Loren Thomson; secretary, Patty Young; treasurer, Dick Blair; parliamentarian, Marilyn Hougham. The sponsors were Miss Alexander and Dr. Young.

The freshman class had no scheduled meeting date but met only when something important needed to be discussed.

During the Christmas season the freshman class sponsored an all-school party which was held after a game. A large Christmas tree was the highlight in the decorations.

Freshman participated in most of the extra-curricular activities of U. High this year, and they expect to distinguish themselves in their next three years of high school.

Student Council

The Student Council is always one of the busiest organizations of University High School. The president this year was Carlton Gamer; vice-president, John Harvey; secretary, Pauline West; treasurer, Ned Jefferson. There were representatives from each class: seniors, Eldred Popejoy and Everette Roeder; juniors, Carolyn Jack and Dave Doud; sophomores, Patty Reed, Barbara Browne, and Ralph Loar; freshman, Darlene Knobelock and Dick Holmes. Mr. Bey served as sponsor.

The Council's first activity was the sponsorship of a "Back-to-School" party. The purpose of this party was to better acquaint the new students with the teachers and other students. The music for the party was furnished by a band made up of high school boys; during the evening a floor-show was given by different students of U. High.

The most important event of the year was U. High's Homecoming. All of the different homecoming activities were under the leadership of the Student Council: the football game with Clinton; the dance in McCormick gym, featuring Larry Lonney's orchestra; the crowning of "Queen" Flesher and "King" Landes; and the welcoming of all guests. Student Council worked hard so that Homecoming would really be the big success that it was.

Last year the Student Council made out a set of library regulations to be followed during the study hall periods. These regulations were approved by a committee of students and faculty and were quite successful. This year the Council made a few revisions in these regulations.

In May the Student Council sponsored the election of the new officers of Student Council. To become a candidate for an office a person must have a petition signed by twenty-five students. On the Thursday before the election the Student Council supervised a campaign assembly. At this assembly each candidate set forth his best qualities and told what he would do for the school.

Many unexpected problems always come to the Student Council and it is quite efficient in solving them.

First row—N. Hanell, Miss Winegarner, P. Minch, E. Wenteroth Second row—L. Miller, Mr. Barber, C. Gamer, T. Jefferson, C. Beeler

Assembly Committee

Ever wonder who planned those interesting assemblies? (Of course we liked them, and not just because we got out of that history test or algebra class.)

The Assembly Committee consisted of a boy and a girl selected from each class and Miss Winegarner, the chairman. Mr. Barber and Dr. Peithman had charge of the speech and music respectively.

As you have probably guessed, the job of the Assembly Committee was to see that there was an interesting program for each assembly. Sometimes classes or clubs gave the programs, and frequently outside speakers or entertainment was provided. The committee did a fine job this year.

Some of the outstanding programs were a talk on the history of U. High by Miss Gertrude Stephens, a discussion of school problems conducted by Dr. Houston, a group of interesting readings given by Miss Edna Means, dramatic reader from Chicago, a program sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, the Student Council election campaign, an orchestra program under the direction of Mr. Glenn, a discussion of courses for next year by Dr. Houston, and the annual Award's Day Assembly.

Apportionment Board

The duty of the Apportionment Board is to apportion the money received from activity fees to all extra curricular activities.

This year the board met at the beginning of the first semester and made out the apportionment for the year. The increased enrollment this year allowed for more money to be divided among the various organizations.

The members of this board were the vice-president of each class, one representative from the student council, and five faculty members, who are elected for a term of three years. In the third year of office, the faculty member automatically becomes chairman of the board. The members were as follows: Loren Thomson, freshman representative; Jim Laible, sophomore representative; Bill Mette, junior representative; George Hudelson, senior representative; and Darlene Knobelock, Student Council representative. The faculty members were: Miss Webb, chairman of the board, Dr. Victor Houston, Mr. Rine, Miss Winegarner, and Miss Klauser.

This humorous play was directed by Mr. G. B. Barber and his assistant student teachers from I.S.N.U. with Dorothy Stone as the assistant director from U. High.

The cast included Wilda Thorsen as Tish, Betty Brown as Lizzie, Barbara Williams as Aggie, Russ Bankert as Charlie Sands, and Carolyn Jack as Ellen along with Ned Jefferson, Bill Mette, Betty Saylor, Doris Patterson, Jim Terrill, Joan Fleming, Dave Doud, and Joan Fletcher in supporting roles.

The humorous antics of the three spinsters, the mysterious disappearance of money, and the quaint love affair kept the audience in a state of laughter and anticipation.

Committees for the play were as follows: make-up—Pauline West, Maurene Jones, Betty Lou Reining, Eleanor Berner, Ruth Mentzer, and Ralene Ellerbrock; publicity—Betty Saylor, Patsy Johnston, Barbara Corn, and Bonnie Sutter; properties—Jim Jones, Dorothy Stone, Margaret Huffington, and Dotty Gerber; costumes—Helen Bane, Mary Hurst, Jo Ann Schaab, Mary Earl, and Evelyn Brynhildsen; house—Donna Coons, Joan Kinneman, Harrison Randall, and Angeline Kenyon; stage—Dave Engstrom, Maurice Jones, Don Colville, Dave Doud, and John Holmes. Miss Ruth Huggins was the class advisor and business director.

Indeed the junior class play was a success from the standpoint of the audience as well as from the report of the finance committee.

Varsity Football

U High's grid squad had one of its most successful seasons in a long time this year. Out of ten starts, eight games were won, six of the opposing teams not even scoring; one game was tied and one lost. The Green and Gold eleven held second place in the Corn Belt, with Pontiac handing them their only defeat and keeping them out of first. The team tied for first in the Inter-city.

Freshman-Sophomore Football

U. High's freshman-sophomore football squad finished the 1945 season by winning two games and losing five.

Directed by Tom Douglass, the boys gave the visiting teams a lot of opposition, with Jack Donahue, Joe Kroll, and Delmar Gottschalk leading the way. With more practice the boys on next year's varsity should keep up the good varsity record of this year.

Homecoming

University High School won its Homecoming game by a large margin. The Green and Gold defeated the Clinton "Maroons" 32-0. The game was in the traditional spirit of U. High. The band was there; the cheering section, appropriately called the "Howling Hundred," carried out its mission; alumni were present; the team overpowered the opponent; the junior class sold candy, pop, popcorn, and hot dogs.

After school for two weeks and all afternoon on the day of Homecoming, the decoration committee worked hard so that U. High could be as proud of the party as it was of the game. The committee carried out a carnival theme complete with merry-goround. Large pictures of typical carnival foods decorated the side walls, and the height of the gym was camouflaged by a multi-colored false ceiling. At the end of the gym there was a platform for the king and queen which was banked with ferns and decorated with red and white. Two clowns looked merrily down from above the platform. At the opposite end of the floor was the red and white canopied merry-go-round which served as a bandstand for Larry Lonney and his orchestra.

The main event at the party was the crowning of the queen and king, Polly Flesher and Bob Landes. The queen's attendants were Gretchen Gottschalk, Marcella Pearson, and Pauline West, while Bob Carden, Jack Oglesby, and Chuck Beeler attended the king. After Dr. Houston presented the crown to the queen, a grand march was led by Mr. O'Connor.

The Clarion staff interviewed several of the alums and asked them how it felt to be back. Below are the comments of some:

Eldon Rupp—Fort Sheridan, "Lot of new faces, but U. High seems the same. Freshies sure are small."

Ray Firebaugh—Leave from Pacific, "Good to be back, but must girls wear overalls?"

Andy Parlor—Marines—Been overseas three and one-half years, "Swell to be back. No wonder I can't buy any overalls. All the girls have bought them."

Alva Jefferson—Marines—overseas two and one-half years in Italy and Africa, "Things have changed some, but it's still good old U. High."

Cliff Stanley—Marines—overseas three and one-half years in European Theater and England, "All I can say is, 'It's wonderful!' "

"Red" Metcalf—Navy—here while ship was being decommissioned in Chicago, "Good to be back, but kids, let's have more school spirit."

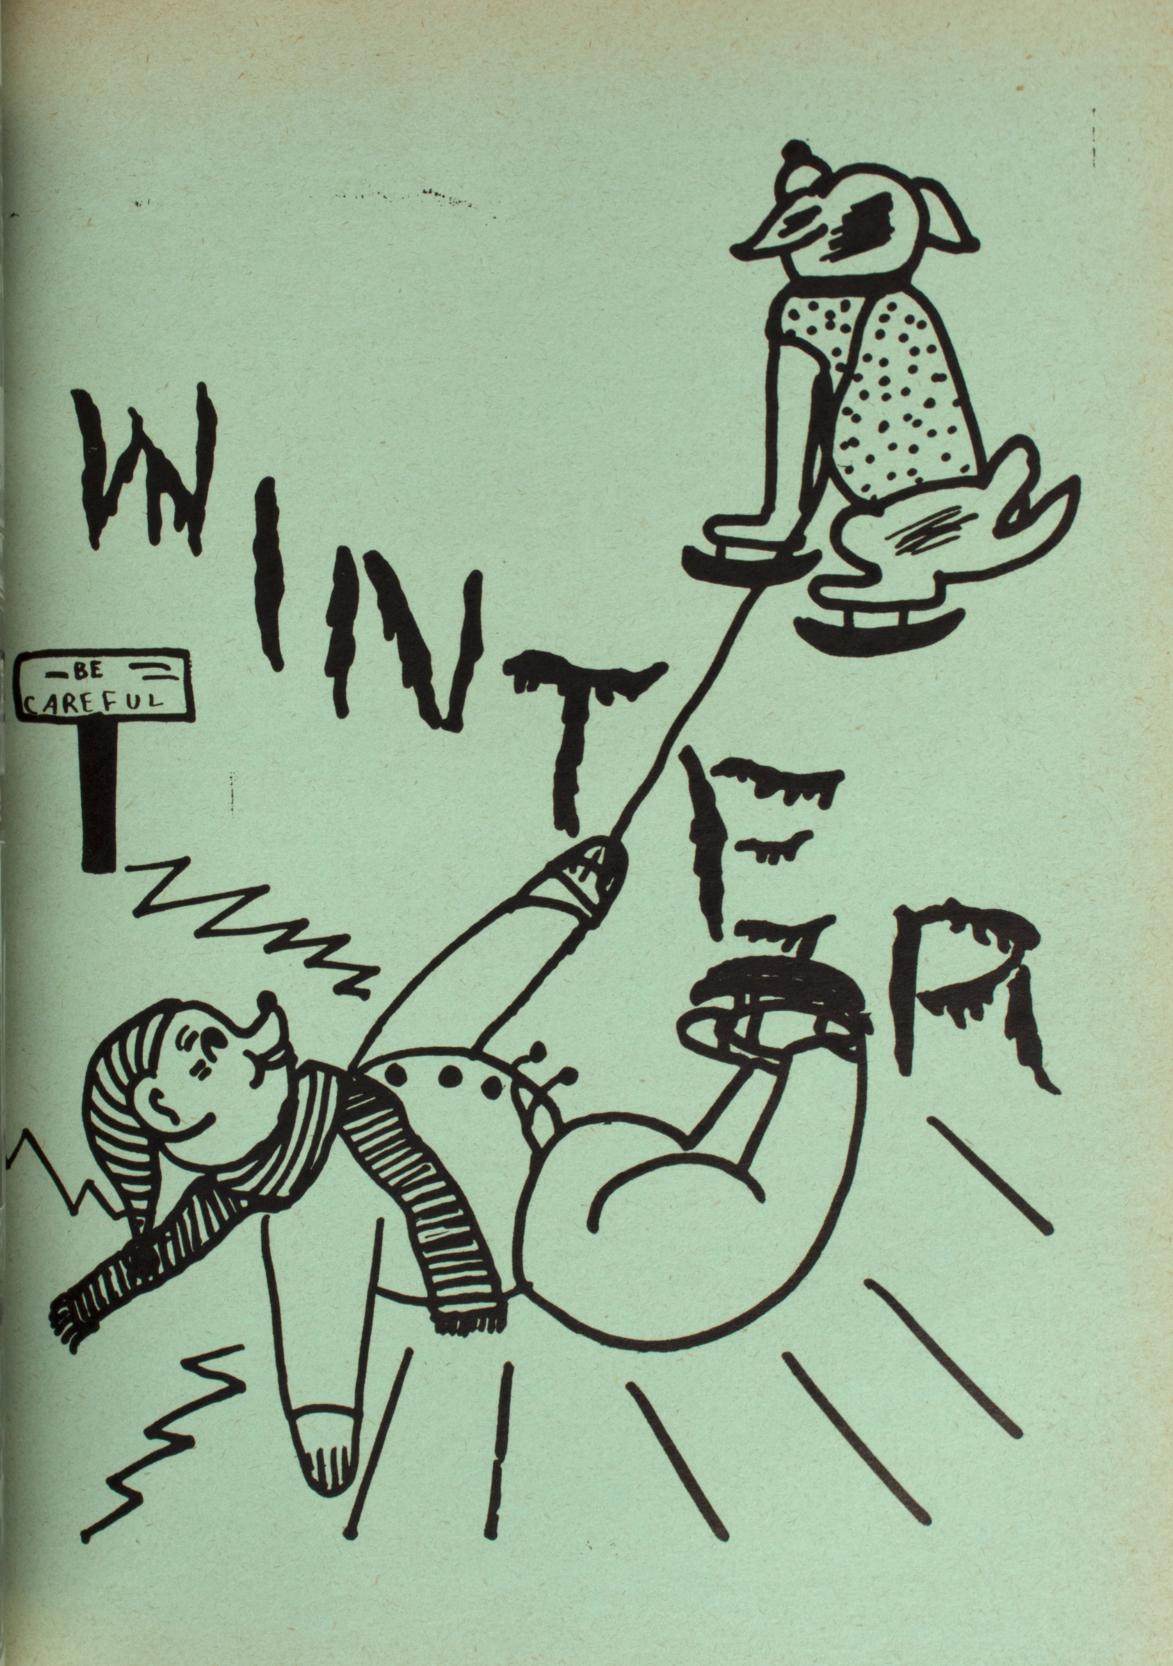

Chuck Hammerlund—medical discharge from Army, "Just like old times, only different faces."

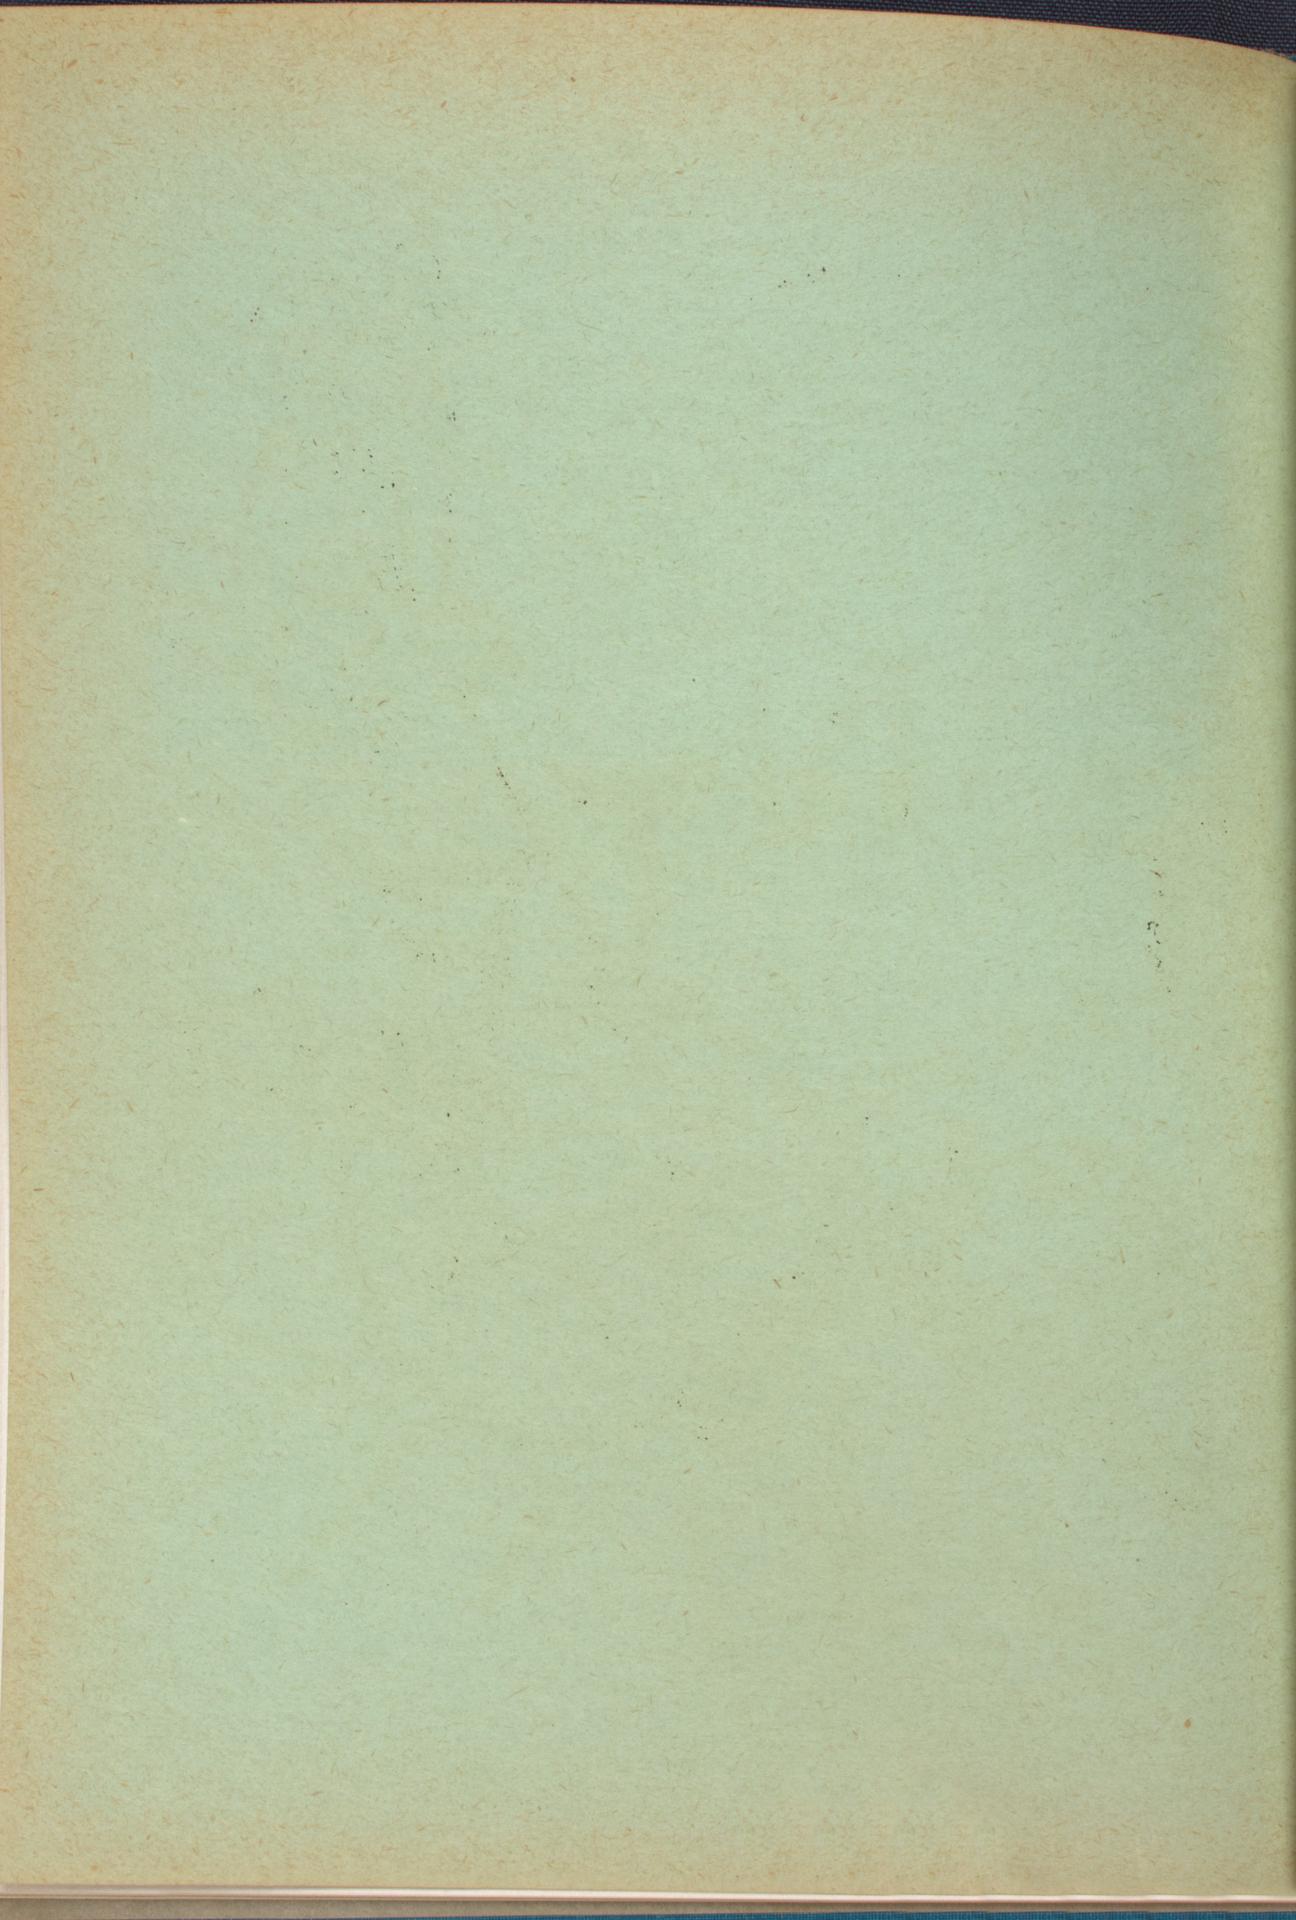

Margaret Johnston-U. of I., "It's wonderful!!!"

Mary Lou Stover—U. or I., "It's wonderful. Good to see people you know again."

Joan Rhinehart—Northwestern, "Wonderful! Perfect! I didn't realize how much it all meant to me before, but I'm beginning to find out now."

Library Club

If you were ever in the library on the second Monday of each month, you saw a group of about thirty girls over in one corner. This was the Library Club, which was under the sponsorship of Miss Stubblefield.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: president, Peggy Minch; vice-president, Nancy Fearheiley; secretary, Marcella Pearson; and treasurer, Charlotte Jean Geske. A program committee consisting of Martha Schaab, Helen A. Dick, and Doris Harmon was appointed at this meeting to see that a special program was presented at each meeting.

You probably noticed, also, the attractive, well-kept bulletin boards, the exhibit case, the Book Week displays, and all the Christmas decorations. Yes, this was the work of these girls, many of whom also worked behind the loan desk. All of these things helped the girls to understand the duties of a librarian, to appreciate good books, and to keep the library looking attractive.

The outstanding social event of the year was a banquet given for the club members in the spring.

Clarionette

With Miss Williams as advisor and Pat Hollowell and Donna Campbell as coeditors, the staff completed a very busy but successful year. Besides the editors, the staff consisted of the following: copy editor, Helen Bane; literary editor, Patsy Johnston; sports editors, Irv Tick and Grover Baker; business manager, Jean Acker; feature editors, Barbara Kauth, and Gretchen Gottschalk; cub-reporters, Clarise Parker, Joan Mercier, Bob Carden, Ed Fry, Nancy Harling, and Elsa Roehm.

One of the main events of the year was the annual Press Convention held at Champaign on October 13, 1945. Pat Hollowell, Gretchen Gottschalk, Donna Campbell, and Barbara Kauth were representatives. They brought back many ideas which helped in putting out the paper.

Many times during the year members of the Clarionette staff were seen scurrying through the halls on their way to interview staff members or students. They were always busy and interested in their particular assignments. Besides publishing the Clarionette bi-monthly, the staff also published one issue of the Green-house which contained stories, poems, essays and themes written by the students of U. High.

Quill and Scroll

Having completed its first year as a club in U. High, Quill and Scroll, the journalism honorary society, promises to honor many future journalists in coming years. The right to membership is judged by Miss Williams, advisor, the Board of International Quill and Scroll at Evanston, Illinois, and the principal of the school, Dr. Houston. The members must rank in the upper third of their class, must do a certain amount of journalistic writing, and must excel in a particular type of journalistic writing. They also are judged on leadership and initiative.

Members initiated into the society this winter were Barbara Kauth, Jean Acker, Pat Hollowell, Grover Baker, Patsy Johnson, and Helen Bane. Donna Campbell, the first member of the U. High chapter, was taken into the society earlier in the year. The members are given gold pins and are sent the Quill and Scroll magazine, monthly.

Clarion

Perhaps you don't realize how much work is involved in putting out the year book. Clarion really begins its work before school opens. At first all there is to do is to organize and make the dummy, select the theme, choose the cover and colors. The Literary Staff must plan the write-ups and get them in in a limited time. Then the pictures have to be taken, selected, named, and cut down. The Photography Staff takes pictures for the snap pages throughout the year.

The staff and its sponsor, Miss Lucile Klauser, have worked long and hard to be able to present this book to the students of U. High before the end of the year. We have our hopes high that you will like the book, and our thanks will be simply the look of enjoyment on your faces when you see it.

Varsity Basketball

The varsity basketball team had one of its most successful years in a long time this season. The U High boys won nineteen games out of twenty-six starts, taking along in stride the Chenoa Regional Championship and being beaten only by one point by Pontiac's Indians in the championship game at the LaSalle Peru Sectional tournament. Individual honors cannot be awarded because of the fine teamwork and sportsmanship of the team as a whole.

The team loses by graduation two of the first five five, Don Sherrard and Bob Hougham. We know that the rest will be back fighting as hard next year.

To the U High basketball team of 1945 and 1946 and to Coach O'Connor, here are congratulations for a "swell" job, well done.

Freshman-Sophomore Basketball

Despite the loss of several of our best sophomore players to the varsity team, U. High's Frosh-Soph Basketball team played some very thrilling games. Their leader, coach Thomas J. Douglass, led them through many exciting games by his skillful directions.

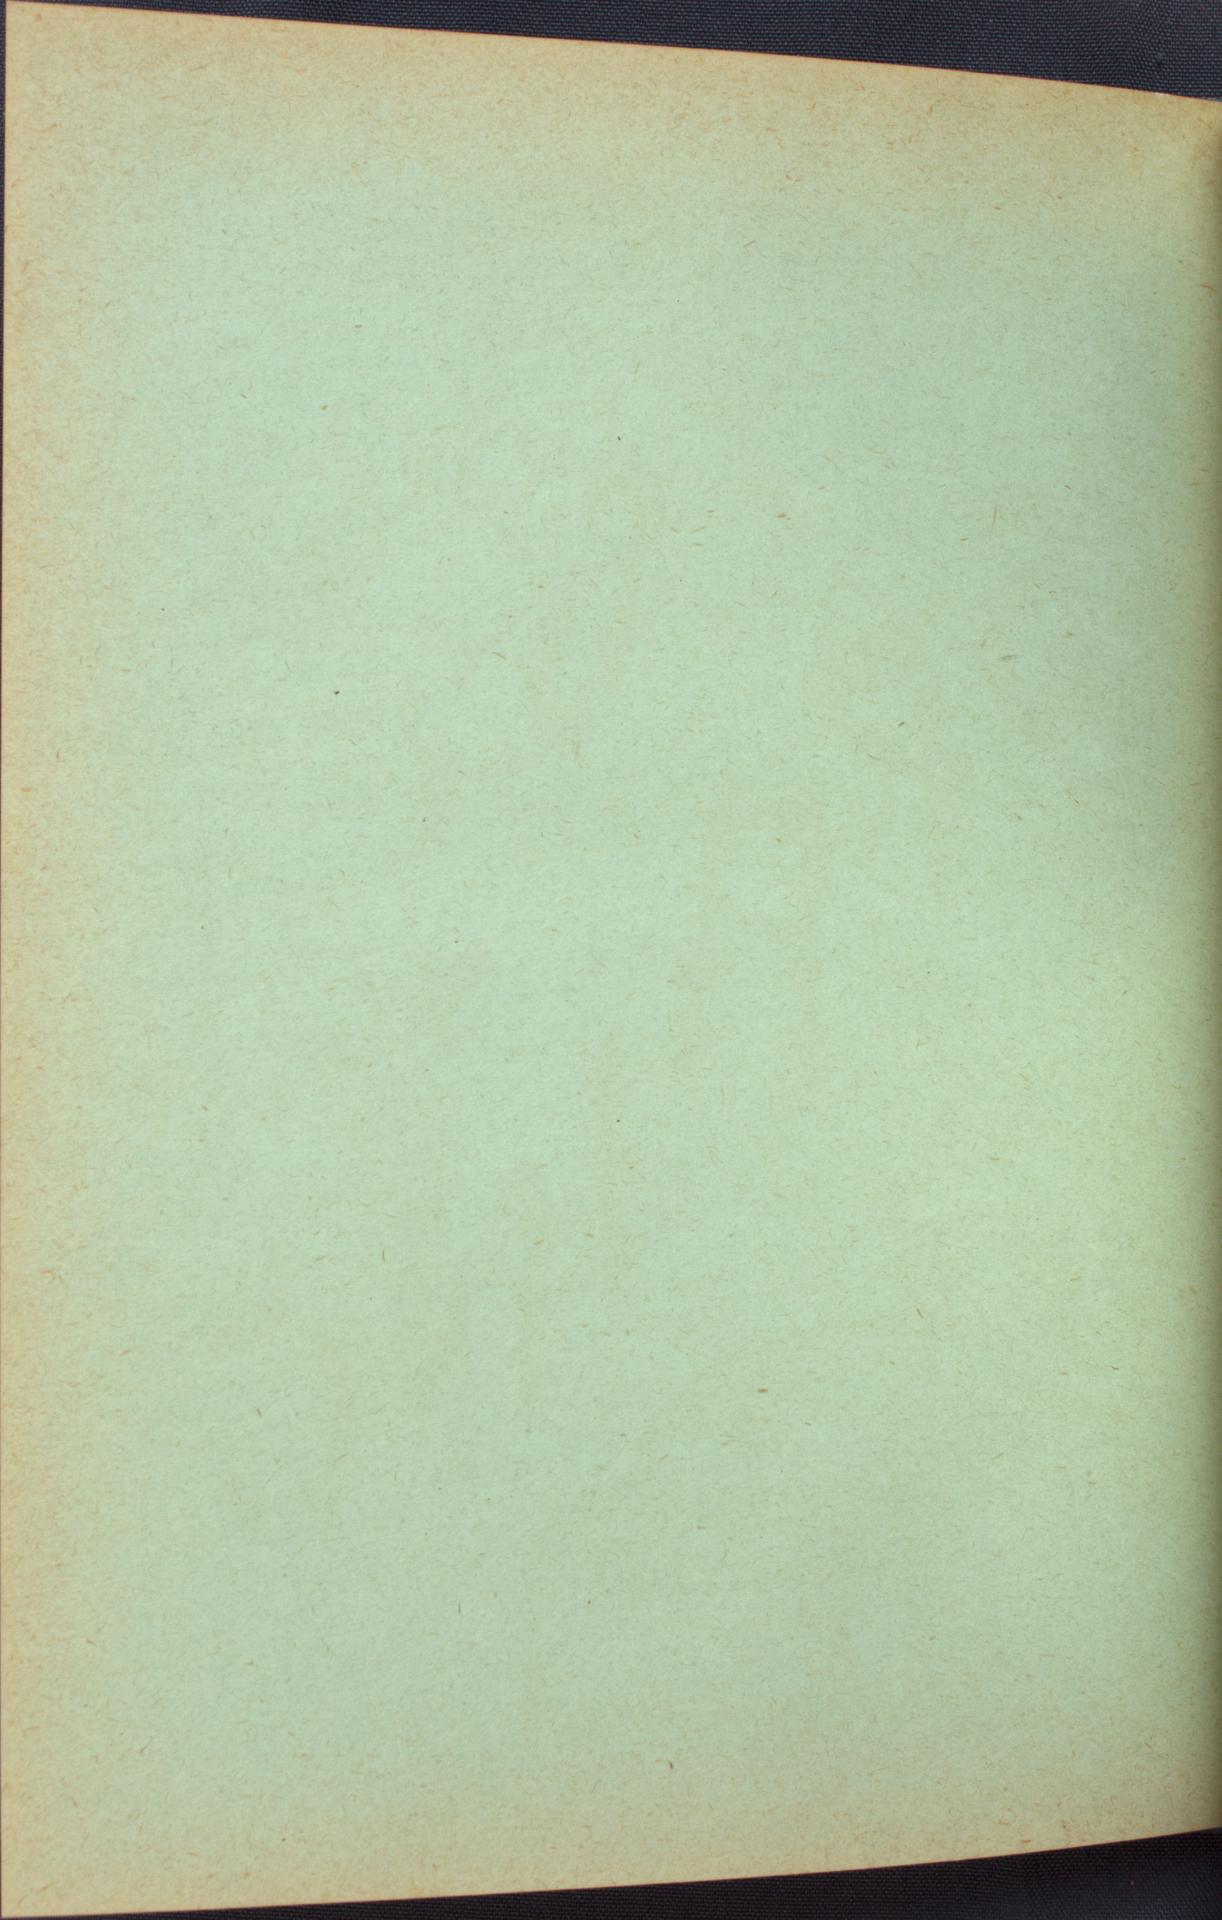

This varsity-to-be should really make a good showing for themselves in the next few years. Members of this year's squad were:

Jack Jetton
Delmar Gottschalk
Frank Carrell
Dale Davis
Ted Jordan
Don Turner

Thalian

Chatter! Yes, the members of Thalian are constantly talking, but it is all for a good purpose. Even though their chatter before and after meetings may not seem serious, they really get down to business and accomplish a great deal.

A typical Thalian meeting consists of roll call, minutes, debate, current events, criticisms, discussion, and a business meeting. Because of the varied program the members learn various things about world affairs, politics, and other current topics. The friendliness that prevails encourages the members to get up in front of groups of people without showing their stage-fright; in addition to all the educational benefits, the members of Thalian have fun.

During the year this ambitious group sponsored an all-school party, a party for itself, and the annual Thalian Banquet. The banquet, which is a highlight of the school year, turned out very successfully. Thalian is grateful to its new sponsor, Miss Alice Eikenberry, for her help in keeping up the traditions of the society.

Rostrum

Debate training for the boys at University High School is provided by Rostrum. At the meetings held Monday nights, the twenty members, under the leadership of Mr. G. B. Barber, exchange ideas on current questions.

During the first semester, the boys were headed by Ralph Loar, president; Russ Bankert, vice-president; and Don Yates, secretary-treasurer.

Besides the Thalian-Rostrum debate, which has been an annual event for almost thirty years, the boys debated in the High School International Debate Tournament held in Capen Auditorium at I.S.N.U. on Saturday, December 8, 1945. Thanks to Bill Rolley and Russ Bankert, who gave an affirmative account of Post-war conscription, Rostrum came out in second place.

Chess Club

The appeal for Chess this year at U. High certainly was on the rise. One could seldom look into the library without seeing a group of boys pondering over a Chess board.

The Chess Club had no officers and no regular meeting, but an impromptu meeting was called whenever two members of the club felt the urge to play.

Chess tournaments held at various times throughout the year made the game interesting to spectators as well as players.

Latin Club

The purpose of the Latin Club is to promote interest in the study of the Latin language and in the customs of the Roman peaple. Membership in the club is limited to those who are studying or have studied Latin.

This year under the sponsorship of Miss Regina Connell the club had many interesting meetings held on the second Tuesday of each month. The programs included talks by the students on various phases of Roman Life; for example, education of the Roman children, plays and games, roads and travel, citizenship, and voting and elections. This year the club prepared a set of twenty-five glass slides on the practical uses of Latin in daily life and presented them in an assembly. Later the club presented them at one of their monthly meetings at which their parents were present.

Two social meetings were held: an after Christmas party at the home of John Corn and a May picnic.

The officers for the past year were president, Wallace Brandt; vice-president, Marilyn Hoyt; secretary, Patty Martin; and treasurer, Leland Miller. A program chairman was appointed by the president each month from student volunteers.

With Miss Dubats as sponsor and the following students as officers-Joan Mercier president; Lawrence Jutovsky, vice-president; Barbara Corn, secretary—treasurer—the Junior Red Cross Council had a very successful year.

The council sponsored a membership drive, presented a very interesting assembly, collected materials made by the art department for soldiers, and made scrapbooks containing crossword puzzles and serial stories. The girls even knitted an afghan.

Every fourth Wednesday of the month the council held a meeting with the representatives of the other three high schools, Normal Community, B.H.S., and Trinity. In these meetings many plans and ideas were discussed.

This year the council included the following students: Joan Mercier, Lawrence Jutovsky, Barbara Corn, Peggy Minch, Lois Reed, Pat Hollowell, Gretchen Gottschalk, and Yvonne Maxey.

Senior Class Play

Under the direction of Mr. G. B. Barber of the U. High faculty, the seniors this year gave as their play "Two Gentlemen and Verona" by Anne Ferring Weatherly.

The play centered around Verona Wood (Yvonne Maxey), one of a group of drama students who were struggling to establish a summer theater. She was encouraged in her desire to become a professional actress by Clyde Colby (Everette Roeder), leading man of the company. She inadvertently met dramatic critic Bill Kennedy (Bob Carden) and fell in love with him in spite of her ambitions. The situation was complicated by the arrival of Mr. Sweezey (Carlton Gamer), a movie scout. The rest of the play dealt with the frantic efforts of the girls to impress the weary and jaded Mr. Sweezey. Verona was torn between her feelings for Bill and her desire to win a movie contract.

The play was very well received and was a financial success.

Other members in the cast were Jean Acker, Don Gresham, Merle Murray, Charlotte Geske, Charlotte Miller, Marcella Pearson, Ann Naftzger, and Eleanor Allen. Peggy Minch was assistant director.

Dramatics Club

The Dramatics Club was organized this year under the direction of Mr. G. B. Barber. The following officers were chosen at the beginning of the year: president, Patsy Johnston; vice-president, Barbara Corn; and secretary-treasurer, Ruth Beeler.

The members of this organization, aside from taking part in the actual play, studied the details of play production, such as: application of make-up, construction and arrangement of stage scenery, stage lighting effects, and selections of costumes. Thus, a member of the Dramatics Club learned to be a play director as well as an actor.

Honor Society

The Honor Society is just what its name implies; it is an honor to be a member of it.

Toward the end of the year certain lucky juniors are chosen to belong to the Walter Dill Scott Chapter of Secondary Schools and to carry on the work of the Honor Society the following year. At the end of the first semester other seniors are selected to be members. Each member is chosen by the faculty and the senior class on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

This year there were four members the first semester; six more were chosen the second semester. The officers were: John Harvey, president; Tom Kinder, vice-president; Carlton Gamer, secretary; and Don Sherrard, treasurer.

The organization was sponsored by Miss Lela Winegarner, who worked faithfully with the club and helped it to have an interesting year.

Aeronautics Club

Due to the increased interest in aviation, the Aeronautics Club was organized this year at U. High. Members of the club studied the mechanics of the airplane and received many pointers on the flying of planes.

During the year each member worked on a chosen project, some of which were the making of notebooks, assembling model planes, and making miniature airports.

Outstanding events in this club's calendar were a trip to Chanute Field, a talk by Mr. Gilliert from the C.A.A., and a high school dance sponsored by the club on April 13. The dance was called the "Bunny Hop."

Officers of the Aeronautics Club were Mary Ingram, president; Harlan Peithman, vice-president; Patty Young, secretary; and Dick Blair, treasurer. Mr. Bey and Mr. Rine were the sponsors.

Band and Orchestra

"Go it, U. High! Go it, U. High! We are doing fine" The tune of "On Wisconsin" has drifted over the football field and gymnasium floor many times. Yes, the U. High band was certainly on the job at the games this year. The blue and white uniforms of the forty players created a striking picture. Good work, Band!

Remember the assembly program that the orchestra put on December 13? Of course. How could you forget those two Hungarian dances, the Finale from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, and "Hymn to Diana?" The orchestra also appeared on a radio program October 14. Approximately seventy University High School students made up this fine organization.

Mr. Neal Glenn led both the band and the orchestra. The U. High music department has always been outstanding, and this year's band and orchestra certainly upheld its fine record

Chorus

University High School had an extensive and effective chorus program during the past school year.

There were numerous branches of choral music including boys' chorus, girls' chorus, a cappella choir, and various ensembles—quartets, trios, and duets.

Under the able direction of Dr. Harlan W. Peithman the choruses made varied performances not only for U. High but also for out of town schools.

Some of the major activities of the groups were radio programs, assemblies for U. High and I.S.N.U., P.T.A. programs for Normal and Bloomington schools and out of town engagements. The a cappella choir sang for the community Thanksgiving service at the Second Presbyterian Church in Bloomington.

U Club

Ever since 1936 the U Club has been active in University High. Upon obtaining a sports letter, a boy may belong to this club, which is symbolic of hard play and good sportsmanship. The gay green sweater with its outstanding yellow U is a familiar sight around U. High.

The boys in the club are very active not only in football, basketball, baseball, and track but also in their duties as club members. They may be called upon to usher at various sports events, take tickets, welcome the members of visiting teams, and take charge at tournaments.

A large record book is kept in which every letterman of U. High may sign his name; thus a permanent record is kept of sports events and boys earning letters.

Under the capable supervision of Coach O'Connor, the club sponsors the annual sports banquet and honor to appear parties sports banquet and hopes to sponsor parties.

This club, an outstanding one of U. High, has gone far and is destined to a great future.

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association had a very interesting year under the sponsorship of Miss Catherine Patterson, physical education instructor.

During the winter the outstanding sports were bowling and basketball. The girls bowled twice a week. A softball team was organized in the spring. When the yearbook went to press, plans were being made for an all school tennis tournament for girls. This was to include girls not in G. A. A.

This organization had one party each semester. These were for G. A. A. members only and took the place of a regular meeting.

Officers for G. A. A. were Ruth Mentzer, president; Doris Harmon, vice-president; and Virginia Buckholtz, secretary-treasurer.

A Line or Two About a Few

Bob Landes was our king,
But he can't compare with Bing
For he doesn't have the tummy
Nor is he a clothes store dummy,
But he does have hair upon his pate,
And he doesn't wear a dental plate.
The very least we ought to say
For him, three cheers—hip, hip, hooray.

Polly Flesher was our queen
And we thought her really keen.
So here's to good ole' Polly
Who's really quite a dolly.

Our girl is Nancy Fearhiley
In school she's very wiley,
And beneath those tortoise glasses
Her eyes make some pretty passes.

How about Eldred Popejoy
Why he was U. High's center
In football just before winter
And with the girls he's far from coy
Make room for Pope, oh boy! oh boy!

How could we forget dear Ralph Loar Who's anything but a big bore, (So it says here!)
Yet he's still not a Don Defore,
But I've wondered—does he snore?

Just a line to good Jean Acker Who is seldom called a slacker. She thinks poetry is just beautiful And to learning it she is dutiful.
